THE CHIEF,

"A WHALE OF A BOOK!"

JOSEPH CASE HIGH SCHOOL

SWANSEA, MASS.

FOREWORD

The oft-repeated cycle of the year has intrigued mankind since the beginning of time. Not only is this change manifested in nature's pattern of the seasons, it is also demonstrated in the human span of existence.

We, the class of 1957, have selected the sequence of animals as the theme of this year's Chief. To us our yearbook is a treasury of golden memories gleaned throughout our four years at Joseph Case High School.

Many hours have been spent in preparing this edition of "The Chief." We hope that you will enjoy our yearbook as much as we have enjoyed preparing it for publication.

ALMA MATER

Tune — CORNELL ALMA MATER

Our strong bond can ne'er be broken

Formed in dear Case High

Far surpassing wealth unspoken

Sealed by friendship's tie.

Mem'ry's leaflets close shall twine

Around our hearts for aye,

And waft us back o'er life's broad track

To pleasures of past day.

High school life at best is passing

Gliding swiftly by;

Then let us pledge in word and deed

Our love for dear Case High.

CHORUS

Alma Mater — Alma Mater

Deep graven on each heart,

Ode victorious we go singing

As from these walls we depart.

MR. WILLIAM J. SAMOS

We, the class of 1957, take great pride in dedicating "The Chief" to Mr. William J. Samos. As a teacher and class advisor, he piloted the "Ship of '57" on an unerring course and it is because of his friendly interest that we have reached a safe harbor. We shall always remember him as a sincere friend.

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

It was with mingled emotions of pride, anxiety, pleasure, and fear that I accepted the title of Editor-in-Chief of the Case High School "Chief" for 1957. Fortunately, the fear has subsided with the realization that I have a superb staff which will profit and advance greatly under the capable guidance of our yearbook advisor, Miss Rita Sullivan.

Our goal is that of each staff which has preceded us—to better the work of its predecessor. With this goal in mind, we will try to give to the class of 1957 a yearbook that will serve as a mirror, reflecting pleasant memories of glorious high school years.

We are proud of Case High School . . . proud of its faculty . . . proud of its students . . . proud of its organizations and activities . . . proud to highlight outstanding events which have aided us in preparing for the future. When we look through this yearbook five or ten years from now, we may recall this famous line from our Case High Song: "For search the east and search the west but still Case High is best!"

Members of the Class of 1957:

When you were Juniors, a military installation known as Nike was built in Swansea. Actually it is known as the home of Battery B, 739th Anti Aircraft Artillery Battalion, with two sets of buildings, the Nike Command Guidance System in Swansea, where radar information is gathered and used, and the Launcher Area in Dighton, in sight of the radar center, where the deadly defensive missile is launched.

Three radar units comprise the Guidance System: target acquisition, target tracking, and missile tracking. Once an enemy plane is identified by target acquisition, its progress is traced by target tracking, and the missile is guided to the enemy plane by missile tracking, and there is no chance of escape.

In a sense, each of you has his own Nike installation. Your power to observe the educational and vocational opportunities before you is like the restless, twenty-four hour scanning of the skies by "target acquisition." You fix your hopes on a certain kind of future, and as your objective changes its direction, you cling to it with "target tracking." Then, as your radar beam locks onto the target, you launch the missile in the form of a drive to achieve exactly what you want.

As long as you have identified your target and fixed your eye on it, there is bound to be an effective result in the form of positive success. You can not miss.

Like the military equipment, your personal equipment must be in good condition. If you do not take the interest to look into the skies and find a target, you will not achieve. Once a target or goal has been named, you will lose it unless you hang on to it. And lastly, if you do not launch your own guided missile, your everlasting effort, the target will escape you.

In readiness there is security, and I trust that at Case High School you have learned awareness that will bring you the success you deserve.

With every good wish,

Richard B. Greenman

Members of the Class of 1957:

In my intimate work with you, our young people, I have found that too many of you, beneath your sophisticated, frivolous exterior, are pursuing your different ways in a discontented, unhappy frame of mind. You do not know what it is for which you long, and so you turn your hands to many and foolish things. Many of you are occupied with being discontented and, consequently, have had no time to find true happiness.

You are not alone in your indefinable longings. Many of your elders are forever pausing and asking themselves what makes life worth while. You want to be happy and you pursue this object to the exclusion of all else. But happiness is elusive and runs fast, and when too violently pursued she makes herself invisible. You reach out for her, and your hands clasp nothing but thin air. Discouraged at your failure, you return to the humdrum things of daily life, and behold, the happiness reappears and stands close beside you.

No one, boys and girls, has ever been truly contented who does not strive after an ideal always receding before him but visible at all times on the far-away horizon. And so, you too must follow a noble ideal if you would be true to yourselves, and only in that can you attain the happiness for which you seek.

See to it that your ideal is no unworthy aim, no idle dream, nor a mere shadow of fictitious fancy which will lead at last only to a blind alley. But you must see rather that it is a noble purpose, one toward which you can direct your lives and the attainment of which will prove to be but the beginning of a road leading to greater happiness, the further you progress upon it.

That you must strive for the fulfillment of an ambition seems of the utmost need. Where would literature, science, music or art be today were it not for those intellectual leaders who knew well what they wished to accomplish and who allowed neither opposition nor poverty nor discouragement to hinder them? The literary masters of all time cry out to the nations of the world that they must know their work, and do it, else no happiness can come to them.

The master workman, Carlyle, has said "Between vague wavering capability and fixed indubitable performance, what a difference." Yes, the difference is indeed great and even when the capability is not vague and wavering, but clear and strong, the performance may be far off. But in the very realization of capability lies the possibility of performance.

So it is with your heart's desire. To know it, to follow it, to attain the happiness ever joined with it, if it be worthy, this is to place yourself among the happy, useful ones of the world.

The idea of the ever-enduring pursuit of your heart's desire, of that struggle which would permit of no defeat, has been sung by the poets of all ages, but never more beautifully expressed than in those words of Tennyson's:

"After it, follow it,
Follow the Gleam."

And the gleam, if it be kept bright and clear, will light up the road of life and show the things you meet upon it in their true proportion. As yet the Class of 1957 has passed upon that highway only the signposts that mark the sheltered years of home and school, and now these must be left behind you. But as signposts give information to the traveler, so these that mark the passage of your school years have imparted to you lessons to be treasured along the rest of the journey. And when you look back upon these days from out the future years, when some of you have attained your dearest hopes, while others reach longingly for theirs, you shall be comforted by the thought:

"—That which we are, we are:
One equal temper of heroic hearts,
Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will
To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

So whether it be soon or late, may you all come to know your heart's desire, to see to it that it be worthy of your training, and to follow till you reach it, hoping that the cry of the Psalmist to God concerning the king may be said of you, "Thou has given him his heart's desire, and hast not withholden from him the will of his lips."

Congratulations to the Class of 1957.

In our rapidly changing, unsettled world it is indeed an accomplishment to graduate from high school. You must have felt the pressures thrust upon you in the form of desires for materialistic things. Some of your classmates, unable to withstand these pressures, dropped out of school to pursue these material things. How can any teacher or adult convey to a young mind that the really important things in life cannot be purchased? Perhaps in a few years you may be asking yourself the same question. You cannot buy the loyalty of a friend, the sense of comradeship of being a member of a team; nor can you buy knowledge. All of these intrinsic things are purchased, not with money, but rather with a part of oneself.

To obtain any non-materialistic good, one must give in order to receive. You have heard this said many times, in many ways. May I quote just two? In the Bible, "It is more Blessed to give than to receive." From a popular quotation, "In order to have a friend you must be one first." Our own history is replete with examples of men and women who gave so much of themselves that we might enjoy the freedom of today. Are you going to be willing to do the same?

Said another way, you will get nothing for nothing. In the study of Physics you learned that the output of any machine is always less than the input. Applying this to our daily lives we find that to achieve any kind of success we must work diligently. There is no shortcut, no "lucky break," no sudden windfall, unless there was first the desire or the drive to earn it.

As you leave Joseph Case High School I hope you will remember that those things which man has cherished throughout the ages are not material possessions, rather they are intangible things. These intangibles; loyalty, courage, honor, co-operation, truthfulness, reverence, respect, are the real attributes, the real lessons to study in school. I hope you have learned your lesson well as I bid you Godspeed on your journey.

D. A. R. AWARD

Each year the D. A. R. award is presented to an outstanding girl in the senior class. This year we are proud to announce that Edith Olson has been chosen by the students and faculty for her loyalty, devotion, and service to her class, school, and community.

We are grateful to Edith for the services that she has offered through her school endeavors and extracurricular activities.

The Class of 1957 extends to you, Edith, wishes for much happiness and success in the years that lie ahead.

GOOD GOVERNMENT DAY REPRESENTATIVE

This year Case High School was represented on Good Government Day by William Marr. Bill rates high in scholastic achievement, and is very active in sports and other extracurricular activities.

Luck, success, and happiness, from the Class of 1957 to you, Bill, in all your future endeavors.

HARVARD BOOK AWARD

The Harvard Book, presented to a junior boy capable in leadership and displaying unusual character, has been an annual feature at Case High School. The book, awarded this year to Robert Fiddler, who was selected by the faculty, is offered by the Harvard Club of Fall River, and is presented at the graduation ceremonies in June.

Robert, an outstanding student and all-around member of the Class of '58, must be considered a true leader, worthy of this honor.

The entire school—both students and faculty—extend congratulations and the best of everything to you, Robert!

FOOTBALL QUEEN

Featured on the evening of November 3, at the "Gridiron Coronation" was the crowning of the Football Queen, Pamela Pickens, who was selected by the football team. Pamela certainly deserved the honor as she was head cheerleader for two years and very active in girls' sports. She was seated on a throne draped in maroon velvet and crowned with a head piece of roses and mums by William Marr, Co-captain of the football team. Best wishes to you, Pamela, from the Class of '57!

The year 1957 promises to be a highly significant one due to the fact that the members of the Student Council of Joseph Case High School began a campaign, December 13, to raise funds enabling a student from a European country to come to study at Case High during the '57 and '58 semesters.

This project is known as "Case's Action for Peace." The foreign student to be chosen will be sponsored through the American Field Service whose headquarters is in New York.

All student council members and assistants sold shares as a means of raising the necessary funds to bring a European student to Case. The cost of each share was one dollar. The town was canvassed by a well-chosen group of representatives who outlined the program. This program would not have been at all possible if it hadn't been in the hands of a responsible leader. The Student Council gives their sincere appreciation to Mrs. Papandrea, whose ambitious qualities and understanding made "Case's Action for Peace" successful.

THRU' THE YEARS

*Do you suppose we'll ever forget
The times we've had, the friends we've met?
Look back four years to fifty-three.
We were in doubt about what was to be.
Until we met along the way,
Trifles that brought us joy or dismay.*

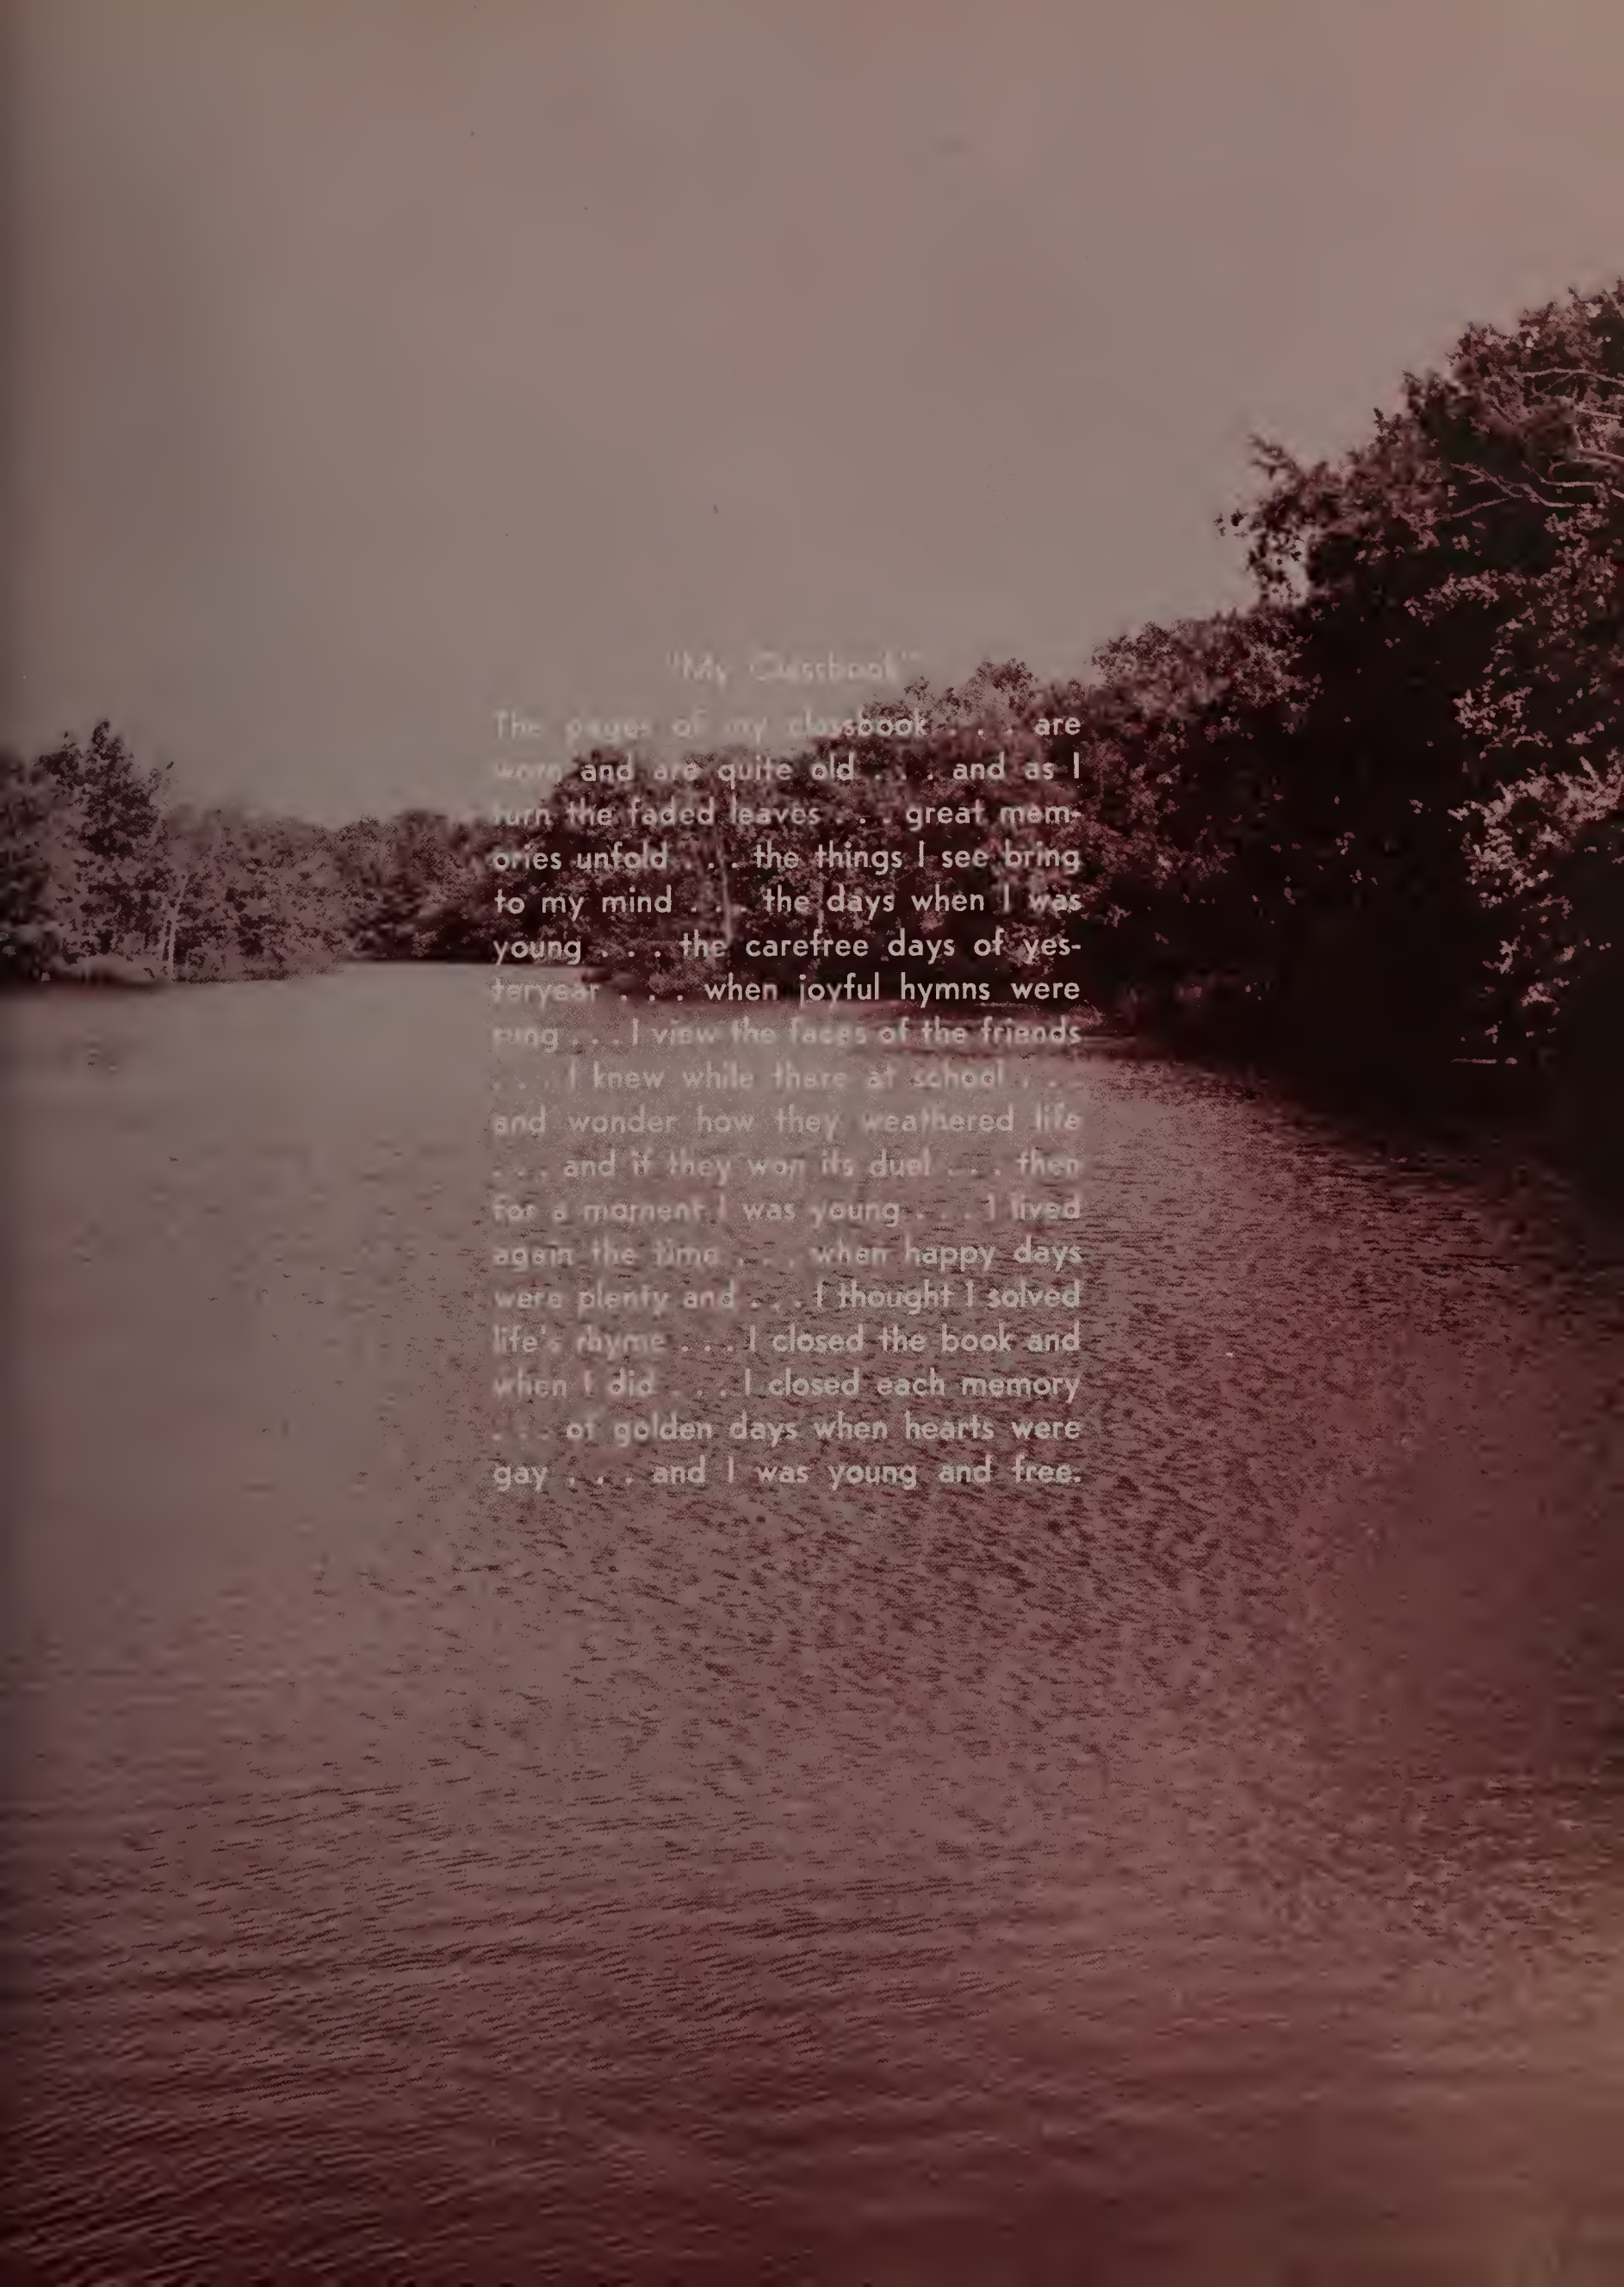

We've worked and studied in the past;
And now a foundation we have at last,
With which to face our future years
Through joy and sadness, hopes, and fears.
Our memories of Case we'll always keep,
In minds and hearts way down deep.

CASE CHAMPS REIGN AGAIN!

Joseph Case High School's 1956 football team retained the Narry League Crown it had won in 1955.

The spirited "Cardinals," after an undefeated season in '55 opened their '56 season with an 0-0 tie with Oliver Ames of North Easton. Two week later the Case eleven downed Franklin High 14-7 in a hard fought contest. Case then trounced Yarmouth 32-13, and Falmouth 20-6, before bowing to a determined Mansfield club 24-26. The Cardinals, quickly, returned to the winning trail again with victories over Dartmouth, 14-6 and Dighton, 27-0.

Case finished the season in a blaze of glory, by downing our traditional rival, Somerset, Thanksgiving morning at Hanson Memorial Field in Somerset. The game was to decide the Narry League Champion for '56—and Case, with spirit, determination, and drive, proved to have all the merits of a champ as they sunk Somerset, 18-12, thus retaining the "49ers" Trophy and adding another to Case's growing collection of gold.

CASE HOOPSTERS UNDEFEATED!

Taking the first half of the Narry Basketball League by storm, Case's high flying Cardinals lived up to pre-season predictions by going undefeated in eight games. With the return of all last year's starters, Case has given every indication of completing the season with a spotless record and going on to the Tech Tourney in Boston. The future looks bright for this year, for Somerset went down to defeat at the hands of the Cards, the first time in 25 years. Prevost has been defeated twice and Holy Family was downed by Case, the first time in the school's history. Our tireless coach, Jim Cassidy, has given Case a basketball team of which to be proud and at the end of the season, we expect to see Case on the "top"!

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

The success of the varsity has given this year's J. V. basketball squad the initiative to follow in step. The first half of the Narry Basketball League saw the Cardinal J. V.'s win seven out of eight, losing only one game, and that to Somerset. Case shares the top rung of the junior league with Somerset and the final game of the season looms bigger as it may well decide the champion of the Narry Jayvee circuit.

GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

Thus far, the 1957 girls' basketball team has proved to be successful in winning seven out of ten games played.

Having bowed to Somerset twice, the girls still have a good chance of copping second place in the Narry League standings.

Five of the varsity players are seniors, leaving only four Juniors around to build a team next year. However, they, too, can prove to be a success with the capable coaching of Miss Norma Rizy, who has coached a number of Case championship teams.

The 1956-1957 track team promises to be one of the strongest and most successful teams molded at Case High. Our new coach, Mr. Dufault, who has worked with the team since September, has high hopes for its success. Participating in interstate competition, Donald Gustafson drew fourth position in the 300 yard run. Donald Britcliffe, showing strength and stamina through the last year, placed fourth in the thousand yard run. Building a powerful relay team will be Mr. Dufault's main objective this year. However, most of the distance and field men from the '56 team are back leading Case's threat to the Narry League crown.

MEMBERS OF THE 1956 GIRLS' TRACK TEAM

Pamela Pickens, Judy Beynon, Barbara Mello, Madeline Chouinard, Janet Hancock, Judith Jackson, Sylvia Horton, Jeanne Chouinard, Jeannette LaCroix, Betty Ormerod, Merrillyn Borden, and Nancy McNeil.

Pamela Pickens led the Case attack by copping three firsts in the broad-jump, high-jump, and the fifty yard dash. She broke the broad-jump record set by Paula Deubel, Case alumna and Olympic contender, by jumping 15'½" to Paula Deubel's 14'9" and set another record by hitting the tape one second faster than Dorothy Greenman, Case alumna, in the fifty yard dash. Pamela holds the new Narry League record of 6:07. Congratulations to you, Pam!

In September of 1953, a group of eager, uncertain students began their four year journey through high school. As freshmen, we were limited as to the sponsoring of social events, but we took an active interest in various athletic and social activities.

We returned to school in the fall of 1954 as sophomores and we were very fortunate to have Mr. Samos as our advisor. Our social activities increased greatly, and we sponsored many various dances.

Returning in September of 1955 as juniors, Mr. Samos was again our advisor. Along with many other social events, our principal duty this year was to plan for the annual prom. For the first time, the prom was held in the gymnasium. The name chosen was "In an Oriental Garden," and the gym was beautifully decorated with a Chinese theme carried throughout. One of the most beautiful scenes was a fountain with running water set off in one corner of the gym. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Prom Queen, Barbara Borden, on a swing decorated with gay pink flowers.

As we assembled in 1956 for our fourth and final year, Miss Sullivan became our new advisor as Mr. Samos did not return to Case. Plans were begun for the annual yearbook under the supervision of Miss Sullivan. Barbara Santos was elected editor-in-chief; Mary Aguiar and Pamela Pickens, assistant editors; and Edith Olson, business manager.

As our high school days are quickly fleeing by, we now realize how vital these four years have been in our lives. No matter what course each of us may pursue we will always remember our four years at Case High School.

*Joyous years have passed
Since we came to Case High.
Where have they gone to?
Oh! They've flown by.*

*In '53 we opened the doors
To study, sports, and fun.
All of these we've truly had,
Each and every one.*

*Remember the proms, games, and mischief,
In which we all took part.
Or do you remember the empty corridors
After school, so lonely and dark?*

*Little things we did through the years
Our teachers, our dates, and our friends.
Hit tunes such as "True Love"
And all those crazy trends?*

*Will be remembered from year to year
As time progresses on.
And with each grey hair you'll wonder
Where have those precious years gone.*

*Oh! Don't forget all those championship teams
In football, basketball, and track.
These are something on which you boys
Can with great pride look back.*

*All these memories have been recorded
For your pleasure in future years.
May it bring back those happy days
Of laughter, fun, and tears.*

*The yearbook staff has worked and strived
And also had some fun.
We always met the deadlines.
Somehow, we got things done.*

*We hope this yearbook is a great success,
For we've worked to make it so.
So long to the underclassmen—
Onward we must go.*
